Ramen!

Everyone's eating it.

And if somehow you've missed out, then don't fret.

Twin Marquis, the Brooklyn-based Asian food company announces the launch of its Japanese style, easy-to-cook Ramen noodles.

With their fresh noodles and dumpling wrappers flying off the aisles in Asian food stores across the country, Twin Marquis now also brings freshly prepared Ramen noodles paired with concentrated sauce bases.

Grab a pack and make yourself some fresh, tasty and healthy Ramen right at home.

With easy-to-follow instructions that take less than two minutes to prepare, the fresh noodles and sauce base combo comes in three different flavors — miso, tonkotsu and shoyu.

Unlike regular instant noodles, Twin Marquis' Japanese style Ramen is freshly prepared and stored under refrigeration to retain its texture.

Focusing on high quality and flavor, the noodles are locally manufactured in New York and easily available in most Asian supermarkets around the East Coast.
