

Innovative Filipino-run medical facility opens in Jersey City

Written by Philippine Consulate General - New York
Thursday, 23 March 2017 09:38

Consul General Theresa Dizon-de Vega (center) cuts the opening ribbon with Freeholder William O’Dea (2nd from left), Mike Florendo (3rd from right) and Bergenfield Council President Arvin Amatorio (2nd from right) for the Hudson Plaza Medical Center. (Photo by NYPCG)

JERSEY CITY — A new innovation in accessible healthcare run by Filipinos and Filipino-Americans was launched this month at the Hudson Plaza Mall.

Innovative Filipino-run medical facility opens in Jersey City

Written by Philippine Consulate General - New York
Thursday, 23 March 2017 09:38

The Hudson Medical Plaza, located at the Hudson Plaza Mall, is the first multi-service medical consultation center located inside a mall facility in Jersey City.

The brainchild of the entrepreneurial team of Filipino-Americans Mike Florendo and Atty. Arvin Amatorio, who is currently serving as Bergenfield Council President, the Medical Plaza aims to present a new approach to medical care in New Jersey.

The concept of a multi-service medical facility in a commercial venue was adapted by Florendo and Amatorio from a popular trend in the Philippines of having medical consultation centers and facilities in mall complexes.

The idea makes access to medical care more convenient for members of the public.

Speaking at the opening of the Medical Plaza, Consul General Theresa Dizon-de Vega noted that this is an idea whose time has come for residents of New Jersey, and shows the creative and resourceful entrepreneurial spirit of Filipino-Americans.

It is also a positive way for the Filipino-American community to invest in their communities and by doing so further elevating the Filipino-American presence in the U.S.

Innovative Filipino-run medical facility opens in Jersey City

Written by Philippine Consulate General - New York
Thursday, 23 March 2017 09:38

<http://www.philippineconsulate.com/press-releases/2017/03/23/philippine-run-medical-facility-opens-in-jersey-city>

Innovative Filipino-run medical facility opens in Jersey City

Written by Philippine Consulate General - New York
Thursday, 23 March 2017 09:38

Jersey City Council President Ronald L. A. P. (center) with Mike Florendo (left) and